Troops take al-Shabaab militants by surprise, kill 5

At least five al-Shabaab militants were killed and several others were wounded when the Somali army conducted an operation in the southwestern region of Bay, an army official said on Saturday. The operation, launched by the Somali National Army backed by regional paramilitary forces, took place outside the strategic town of Diinsoor, some 369 kilometers (229 miles) southwest of the capital Mogadishu. Ibrahim Adan, Somali army operational commander in the area, told media that they attacked an al-Shabaab base on the outskirts of Diinsoor while the Somali-based al-Qaeda affiliated group were planning attacks against the government forces, killing at least five militants, including two senior officials, and wounding several others...

Al-Azhar Observatory warns of "Boko Haram" using drones

The Al-Azhar Observatory for Combating Extremism has warned against the terrorist group "Boko Haram" using drones in its reconnaissance operations in the areas where the group is stationed, expressing its grave concern about this dangerous shift and qualitative development in the strategy of that terrorist group. In a statement today, the Observatory called on the member states of the "Lake Chad Basin" organization to urgently respond to the African Union, which called for consideration of the possibility of an urgent and more effective response to this threat, and an attempt to stop all forms of political, military and financial support for "Boko Haram"... Myanmar coup: Aung San Suu Kyi detained as military seizes control

Myanmar's military has seized power after detaining de facto leader Aung San Suu Kyi and other senior members of her governing party. All authority has been given to the top army commander and one-year state of emergency declared for one year, a statement on military TV said. The coup military follows a disputed election decisively won by Ms Suu Kyi's party, leading to weeks of tension. She urged supporters not to accept the coup and state protests. Myanmar's military has taken control of the country after detaining de facto leader Aung San Suu Kyi and other politicians in the early hours. Military TV said a state of emergency had been declared for one year and power transferred. The coup comes after tensions rose between the civilian...
